

ABSTRACT

A method of making a microarray comprising the steps of:-- providing a support; --coating on the support a fluid composition containing 5 microspheres and gelatin; --immobilizing the microspheres in the gelatin coating;
--partially digesting the gelatin with an enzyme to expose surfaces of the microspheres; and--removing the enzyme and digested gelatin from the coating.

10

20121009 01:36:06